

What is legal and fair use of Spinning Babies® in your work and publicity?

Spinning Babies is an approach to childbirth recognized around the world.

Your help is needed to maintain integrity of the Spinning Babies brand and approach to childbirth. Spinning Babies legal name is Maternity House Publishing, Inc. The following information answers common questions about the use of the Spinning Babies trademarks and copyrights. Thank you for your cooperation in following them.

Here's a guide for the Spinning Babies enthusiast to share the new knowledge:

- 1. Use of the "Spinning Babies" logo and name. "Spinning Babies" is a federally registered trademark used in connection with an approach to childbirth that is recognized around the world. You may list your attendance at a "Spinning Babies" workshop on your resume' or CV. Persons that have become "Spinning Babies" trainers by completing our training program may call themselves a "Spinning Babies" trainer. Spinning Babies logo and name should not be used unless we enter into a licensing agreement granting you rights to use the logo.
- 2. Teaching the "Spinning Babies" protocols. The techniques outlined in our materials are taken from many sources and we do not claim ownership over any technique. The arrangement of selected techniques, and our names for those arrangements are unique to Spinning Babies. "Spinning Babies", "Three Sisters of Balance", "Balance, Gravity and Movement", and "Change Birth on Earth" are our service marks and may only be used by Spinning Babies and Spinning Babies trainers. You can teach techniques, but not use our brand name or arrangements.
- 3. Use of materials produced by Maternity House Publishing. The copyright in Spinning Babies' books and other materials is owned by Maternity House Publishing. Copies of books and materials, including download codes for gift or resale, can be bought through Spinning Babies. We do not grant you the right to duplicate or distribute (email) downloads that you bought for personal use, or use our materials within your own course material. You may not post, use or print photographs or other images from Spinning Babies' website or other locations without our prior written permission. If you wish to distribute our materials in your classes or from your website, we happy are to discuss our distributer and affiliate programs with you.

Thank you for upholding the gift of Spinning Babies to childbirth in our era,

Gail Tully, The Spinning Babies Lady
